Year: 2020/2021

Literature class has witnessed some changes this year and on. First, there is a lecture where students are supposed to get access to some literary theory and partial application. That is, they get assigned to read some predefined fiction work or poems, and then have a sort of global discussion on and about the work. In the TD, however, they are assigned to present on themes, see below, which can fall in line with the themes of the lecture and its context. The TD themes are set randomly to students. Whoever is group 1 gets theme 1 and on it goes. The order of the themes is unchangeable. Yet, some themes can likely be changed or completely replaced by new ones, depending on the context and circumstances. The themes remain subject to change and improvements from one year to the next.

Themes:

- 1. Romanticism
- 2. Gothic romance/genre
- 3. Victorian era
- 4. Realism
- 5. Naturalism
- 6. WWI in Modernism
- 7. The Lost generation
