	J	Level: L2
Faculty of Letters and Languages  Department of English  Full Name: Group:		Course: Methodolog
		Timing: 1h
		Mark:/20
The Second Semester Ex	xam
Activity 1: Fill in the gaps with the appropriate terms. (04pts)
1is a reduction of a longer ma	aterial into a b	orief statement that captures its basic idea, argument, or theme.
2 are academic periodical	publications 1	related to specific discipline.
3 is a string of words from a toperson.	ext or speech a	ttributed to another
4 is the unethical behavior of	intellectual dis	shonesty.
Activity2: Are these statements true or false? Tick ( $$ ) the corr	ect box. (04 pt	ts)
The statement	True	False
The statement  1-Literature review refers to collection quotations by different writers on a specific topic.	True	False
1-Literature review refers to collection quotations by	True	False
<ul><li>1-Literature review refers to collection quotations by different writers on a specific topic.</li><li>2- When paraphrasing, there is no need to mention the</li></ul>	True	False
<ul><li>1-Literature review refers to collection quotations by different writers on a specific topic.</li><li>2- When paraphrasing, there is no need to mention the source of information.</li><li>3-A quote containing 40 words or more should be</li></ul>	True	False
<ul> <li>1-Literature review refers to collection quotations by different writers on a specific topic.</li> <li>2- When paraphrasing, there is no need to mention the source of information.</li> <li>3-A quote containing 40 words or more should be written separately from the rest of the written material.</li> <li>4- Using one's own previous work in a new one without</li> </ul>	True	False
<ul> <li>1-Literature review refers to collection quotations by different writers on a specific topic.</li> <li>2- When paraphrasing, there is no need to mention the source of information.</li> <li>3-A quote containing 40 words or more should be written separately from the rest of the written material.</li> <li>4- Using one's own previous work in a new one without attribution is not considered as plagiarism.</li> </ul>		False
1-Literature review refers to collection quotations by different writers on a specific topic.  2- When paraphrasing, there is no need to mention the source of information.  3-A quote containing 40 words or more should be written separately from the rest of the written material.  4- Using one's own previous work in a new one without attribution is not considered as plagiarism.  ctivity 3: Answer the following questions. (06pts)		False
1-Literature review refers to collection quotations by different writers on a specific topic.  2- When paraphrasing, there is no need to mention the source of information.  3-A quote containing 40 words or more should be written separately from the rest of the written material.  4- Using one's own previous work in a new one without attribution is not considered as plagiarism.  ctivity 3: Answer the following questions. (06pts)		False
1-Literature review refers to collection quotations by different writers on a specific topic.  2- When paraphrasing, there is no need to mention the source of information.  3-A quote containing 40 words or more should be written separately from the rest of the written material.  4- Using one's own previous work in a new one without attribution is not considered as plagiarism.  ctivity 3: Answer the following questions. (06pts)		False
1-Literature review refers to collection quotations by different writers on a specific topic.  2- When paraphrasing, there is no need to mention the source of information.  3-A quote containing 40 words or more should be written separately from the rest of the written material.  4- Using one's own previous work in a new one without attribution is not considered as plagiarism.  ctivity 3: Answer the following questions. (06pts)		False

Activity 4: BREIFLY discuss $\underline{ONE}$ of the suggested topics below in a paragraph of 5 to 8 lines. (06pts)

<ul><li>1- Internet websites can be used as reliable sources of information after careful evaluation.</li><li>2- There are certain techniques that could be employed by writers to avoid plagiarism.</li></ul>

Good Luck