

Mohamed Khider University of Biskra
Faculty of Law and Political Science
Law Department

handout in module:

Business law terminology

Directed to Second-year Master of Business Law students

Prepared and Compiled By

Dr : lazhar benaissa

University Season : 2023/2024

Business Law

The aims of module

Through this module, we aim to illuminate ambiguous points about the specialty of business law in the English language while ensuring simplicity and ease.

Considering the centrality and importance of the business law specialty, which is concerned with the stock market and its historical development, as well as investment and its importance, considering that a graduate of business law may head towards investment, startup companies, etc., in addition to e-commerce.

Therefore, the goal is to create competent students capable of creativity in the field of business administration and investment, with the possibility of joining international companies and law firms to defend large companies, restore their rights, and contribute to their renaissance and development.

With an emphasis on making more efforts in terms of mastering the English language, translating, reading, and listening, as well as creating an environment to deal with it.